

I have my Technician license and have passed the General Exam. I have taken a lot of time trying to learn Morse code (just to get on HF not to use CW) and can't seem to get it So like many other operators I am held back for something that most of the rest world has dropped.

Please Drop the code requirement for all classes !